BULGARIA'S WOES.

There Are Two Big Factions and They Are Fighting Like Fiends.

BERLIN, June 1.—A dispatch to the Tagblatt from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that two battalions of infantry and the entire police force have issued a manifesto in favor of ex-Premier Stambouloff. The dispatch adds that a bloody fight had taken place between the rebelling soldiers and the police and the loyal troops. Many were killed on both sides. Several disturbances directed against the prefects are reported from the provinces. One official is said to have been killed. On the other hand it is reported Prince Ferdinand has received many telegrams thanking him for the dismissal of Stambouloff.

They're For the Pooling Plan.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The house committee on commerce has reported a bill drawn by Representative Patterson of Tennessee, radically modifying the anti-trust section of the interstate commerce act. The proposed system, which permits pooling under restrictions and under the supervision of the interstate commerce commission, has the support of a majority of the commission.

Talking Now of a Conference.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 1.—The officers of the United Mine Workers will hold a conference here on Tuesday on the coal situation. The Consolidated Coal company, which controls one-fourth of the output in Illinois, holds the key to the situation. President McBride has telegraphed the miners at Wellstone and Coalton, Ohio, not to interfere with trains.

As to the Hoffman House.

JERSEY CITY, June 1.—Vice Chancellor Green today annulled the charter of the Hoffman House corporation on petition from E. D. Stokes. This is the outcome of a partnership controversy between Edward and W. E. Stokes. The vice chancellor directed the receiver to wind up the affairs of the Hoffman house at once.

Students on the Rampage.

ROME, June 1.—Menacing manifestations were displayed in Palermo over the sentence to 18 years' imprisonment of Deputy Deliccia by students wearing red badges in the parades and shouting their demands for Deliccia's release. The police made many arrests, but this had no effect in quelling the disturbance.

Electricity.

It must have been some old Greek who was polishing the amber mouthpiece of his pipe with a woolen rag, and found the amber attracted light objects, for from the Greek word for amber, "electron," comes the name of what is to-day the most mysterious and powerful manifestation of force that we have. For many hundred years nothing was known about electricity, and even after the discoveries of Newton, Franklin, Faraday and others it was a sort of scientific curiosity, but which philosophers speculated, but which had no interest for practical men. But there the "practical man" (often another name for the one who has no interest in anything unless there is in it a dollar for him) was mistaken, as he generally is in such matters, not gratefully remembering the theorist who has discovered the principle. Within the last 15 years how extensive has been the application of electricity to the uses of life! It was only in 1880 that the Scientific American said: "It seems not entirely improbable that at some future time this force may be applied to the running of street cars." But many people forget, while they stand agape at the electric car and the motor, that it is really only a transmission of force, and back of what they see is the monstrous steam engine. To see the real agent take to the railroads, and when you want the best one, with daily trains to Chicago and St. Louis, ask your ticket agent to send you via the Burlington route. For other information as to the line, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THEY'RE FIGHTING.

The Latest News From Samoa Speaks of Battles and the Like.

Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press. AUCKLAND, New Zealand, May 1.—Advices received from Samoa under date of May 19 announce that the rebels have occupied Utuafanuekin, an almost invulnerable fortress. It is added that the government troops have advanced and are now firing upon the rebel army. Advance parties of rebels have been engaged in several skirmishes. One government soldier was killed and two rebels wounded. An important battle was imminent. The surgeons of the British and German warships were preparing to attend the wounded.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Little Business Done on Change—The Market Was Stagnant.

Professional Courtesy.

From the Texas Siftings.

Two Texas doctors met on the street.

"I feel sorry for you. You ought not to be out in this kind of weather. You are a sick man," said Dr. Blister.

"I am not feeling very well," replied Dr.

Soonover.

"What doctor is treating you?"

"I am proscribing for myself."

"You shouldn't do that. You are liable to be arrested for attempted suicide."

DISCUSSIONS

In music are interesting to every one, but not nearly so interesting as the music itself. You will be interested in the prices we are able to make on Pianos and organs, but you won't be more charmed than you will be with the music producing power of the instruments themselves.
